Business problems

As a Hospital and Lab professional, the most difficult problems they encountered were with software for storing information and Lab management. As a super speciality hospital, storing patient data such as tests conducted, time and test results is critical. They were also facing difficulties with performing discounting and rate-list management with other softwares. As a Hospital they were always looking for a simple software for storing data that included all of the necessary features.

"We always used MS WORD software to record all the patient data and their information on daily basis but now using LabSmart software. Switching to LabSmart software saved us a lot of time in reporting and made it convenient to report different kinds of test results."
